WILSON NAMED I.T. DIRECTOR FOR CERTIFIED RESTORATION DRYCLEANING NETWORK

ANN ARBOR, MI, November 29, 2004 --- Tim Wilson has been named Director of Information Technology for the Certified Restoration Drycleaning Network (CRDN), an international organization of highly trained drycleaners specializing in insurance restoration drycleaning services.

Formerly a software developer for CRDN, Wilson is responsible for the direction, development and programming of CRDN's proprietary software system, RestorNet. In his new position, he also will provide direction for the company's multiple Web sites, technical support, facility network management and staff IT resources.

As a software developer, Wilson managed, prioritized and successfully implemented more than 450 requests for changes and new features in RestorNet and internationalized the program for use in the U.K. and Canada.

"The use of technology has enabled CRDN to gain a leadership role in the restoration drycleaning industry," said Wayne Wudyka, CRDN's CEO. "Tim's accomplishments and experience, along with his extensive background in software development, will greatly benefit our international organization as we expand and refine our services," Wudyka added.

Previously, Wilson served as a lead software developer for Royal Oak-based company. He earned a Bachelor's of Business Administration with a focus on management information systems from the University of Michigan-Dearborn, where he graduated with high distinction in 2003.

Wilson resides in Berkley, Mich.

The Certified Restoration Drycleaning Network (CRDN) is an international organization of experienced, highly trained drycleaners who specialize in insurance restoration laundry and drycleaning services for all types of loss. Adept at restoring textiles damaged by fire, smoke, water or exposure to mold and other contaminants, CRDN members offer an effective, efficient and proven solution for insurance professionals seeking to reduce costs and improve margins while closing claims quickly. CRDN currently operates in the United States, United Kingdom and Canada. The organization's Web site is www.CRDN.com, and claims assignment can be made across the U.S. by calling 1-888-DryClean.
