FEARON NAMED NATIONAL FIELD MANAGER FOR CERTIFIED RESTORATION DRYCLEANING NETWORK

ANN ARBOR, MI, May 30, 2005 — Bob Fearon has been named National Field Manager for the Certified Restoration Drycleaning Network (CRDN). The announcement was made by Wayne Wudyka, CEO and founder of CRDN, an international organization of textile restoration experts serving insurance adjusters, contractors, contents cleaning companies and homeowners.

In his new position, Fearon will be responsible for the ongoing support, technical assistance and training of CRDN partners. To CRDN, Fearon brings more than 20 years of experience including a decade of service with Paul Davis Restoration, starting as a franchise owner in eastern Connecticut and then spending eight years with the PDR corporate office. He has served as a Region Manager for the past two years, managing 80 franchise units.

“We are very pleased to expand our operations team and to add the depth of experience that Bob brings to our CRDN partners,” said Wudyka said. “His proven track record and knowledge of our organizational alignment will enable him to play a key role for us in the field.”
